

Orange County Government
Office of County Executive Steven M. Neuhaus
NEWS RELEASE

For Immediate Release
July 31, 2017

Contact: Justin Rodriguez
845.291.3255

Neuhaus visits three establishments in Port Jervis as part of “Open for Business” tour

County Executive spends time at Foundry42, Adam’s Juice Bar and Woodland Jerky Shop

Goshen, N.Y. – Orange County Executive Steven M. Neuhaus recently visited three venues in Port Jervis as part of his “Open for Business” initiative.

Neuhaus started his tour on Front Street at Foundry42, moving on to Adam’s Juice Bar and Woodland Jerky. He was joined on his visits by Orange County Legislator Tom Faggione.

“Each of these establishments are unique and bring character to Port Jervis,” Neuhaus said. “All three of them have created a buzz in Port Jervis and beyond. Businesses such as these will help attract visitors to Port Jervis and move the city forward. These business owners are all passionate about their brand and I wish them all much success.”

Owner Cooper Boone launched Foundry42 with his partner, Mark Veeder, in November of 2016, after renovating the former Tri-State Fitness building on 42 Front Street. Foundry42 features a coffee bar, baked goods made on premises, an upstairs exhibition space with entertainment, specialty events, classes and private rentals. It has been featured in, among other publications, Vanity Fair and Country Living magazines.

Foundry42 can be reached at 858-4942 or via email at cooper@f42home.com. The website is f42home.com and Foundry42 can be found on Facebook at facebook.com/Foundry42Home/.

“Foundry42 is rooted in brewing community,” Boone said. “It’s a gathering place that celebrates coffee, food, design special events and the arts. Our success comes from the wellspring of community support and strong local leaders such as Steve Neuhaus.”

Brothers Jacob and Adam Schoch opened neighboring stores, Adam’s Juice Bar and Woodland Jerky, on 78 Front Street in June. Adam’s Juice Bar offers a variety of fresh pressed juices, smoothies and yogurt bowls. The shop can be reached at 699-8942 and on Facebook at facebook.com/AdamsJuiceBar. Woodland Jerky sells, beef, sausages, hot sauces a variety of jerky, including products made from salmon, alligator, tuna, venison, wild boar, turkey and elk.

Jacob Schoch also makes edible cookie dough from scratch in several flavors, which has been a hit with customers. Woodland Jerky can be reached at 421-9709 or jakeschoch1992@gmail.com.

“My brother and I have been close all of our lives and we wanted to start these businesses together,” Jacob Schoch, 25, said. “We want to succeed and grow with Port Jervis. I think that it is great that the County Executive came in to visit with us and we appreciate that he and Legislator Faggione spent time at our stores.”

Whether you are a large firm or a smaller family operation, Neuhaus invites new businesses in Orange County to contact his office to schedule a time for him to visit your establishment as part of the “Open for Business” program. He will take a picture with the owner(s) and post it on his Facebook page to help promote the business. Neuhaus unveiled the “Open For Business” initiative last October and has highlighted several new businesses since then.

For more information, contact Justin Rodriguez, Assistant to the County Executive for Communications and Media Relations at 845.291.3255 or jrodriguez@orangecountygov.com.

###

Orange County Executive Steven M. Neuhaus talks with Adam Schoch, owner of Adam's Juice Bar in Port Jervis;

County Executive Neuhaus (left) and Legislator Tom Faggione (center) speak with Cooper Boone (right), owner of Foundry42.